

15 MINUTES LOST IN THE RUN TO HARLEM

Subway Trains Getting Slower and Slower and Time Is Lost.

NO APPARENT REASON.

All That the Matter Has to Do in the Issue Is to Get Out of Bed Earlier.

Citizens of the Bronx are rising against the Interborough "Rapid Transit" Company.

When the West Farms division of the Subway was opened only local trains invaded the Bronx.

About four months ago this scheme was changed and express trains were run to West Farms.

But recently there has come a change. The service is even slower than it was before the express trains were run under the Harlem River.

"A few months ago I could get to Park Row in thirty-five minutes from my home, near the Prospect Avenue station," said a Bronxite today.
